INCLUDED IN DATABASE A bridge between teens and their library

Teens are spending more time at their computers and that's where you want to be. Reach out to them and let the Teen Book Club be the bridge that brings them back into to your shelves. To help make that connection, we have a teen reader write the daily introduction to the emails. We have a waiting list of teens wanting to participate. We also do book give-a-ways to help draw in young readers.
